

SAMANTHA LAWSON

Samantha Lawson, known to many as “Sam Law,” is the founder of Yung Hip Professionals Inc. She is also a published model, event organizer, and community advocate. Yung Hip Professionals Inc is 501(c)(3) charity with a mission to develop leaders and entrepreneurs in at risk neighborhoods on Long Island. Their focus is to empower; men, women, and children to focus on developing their talents to lead to successful businesses and careers.

Sam has a Master of Science in Mental Health Counseling from LIU, CW Post and Bachelor of Art in psychology from SUNY Old Westbury. Sam believes the greatest gift you can give to anyone, is to let them know you believe in them.
